Henrico's Glen Allen Branch Library to Reopen October 25, 2010

The Glen Allen Branch Library of Henrico County Public Libraries, located at 10501 Staples Mill Road, Glen Allen, 23060, will host a community celebration in honor of the reopening of the library on Monday, October 25, 2010, from 6:00 – 9:00 p.m. The community is invited to attend this free event.

The Glen Allen Branch Library closed its doors on June 6, 2009, for renovation and expansion. The facility has grown from 12,000 to 25,000 square feet. Its new features now include a larger meeting room, study rooms, an outdoor courtyard, a fireplace, a greatly expanded children's area, and additional space for new materials. A very special Founding Fathers collection celebrating the beginning years of the United States is now located at this branch library. John Turnbull's well-known painting, the Declaration of Independence, designates the entrance to this area.

This Henrico County construction project was made possible by the 2005 Henrico Bond Referendum. For additional information, please go to www.henricolibrary.org or call 290-9500.
