Henrico County Public Library Website Boasts New Senior Section

September 10, 2010

In honor of National Grandparents Day on Sunday, September 12, 2010, the Henrico County Public Library is pleased to announce the launching of its newest website feature, Senior Space, specifically designed for senior citizens at www.henricolibrary.org/seniors.

With rave reviews already coming in, Senior Space's most popular feature so far has been the ease of finding things because of the clean screen and the size of the print.

Interesting web sites particularly suited for senior lifestyles about travel, food, entertainment, genealogy, and grandparenting are featured , in addition to a daily crossword puzzle.

Tired of web clutter? Try out our Senior Space – no matter how old you are!
