Henrico County Public Library Receives State Award

Henrico County Public Library recently received the 2012 Outstanding Cooperative Program Award given by the Virginia Public Library Director's Association at their annual retreat held at Graves Mountain, VA in April. The public library's program guide and newsletter, Connections, which was formerly published and distributed quarterly to the community through the Richmond Times-Dispatch and all Henrico libraries, has now merged with Henrico's Division of Recreation & Parks publication, At Your Leisure.

With this cost-saving strategy, members of the community now have the opportunity for "one-stop shopping" for entertainment, physical activities, and learning opportunities in Henrico that are available for babies through senior citizens, with many of them offered for free.

The merged publication is now available for pick-up at all Henrico public libraries and recreation centers, Kroger, Martin's, Wawa, and is also accessible through the website at www.henricolibrary.org.
